1. The author uses the word "breathtaking" to describe the introduction of Moshe. This is a metaphorical use of the word, suggesting that the introduction is surprising and awe-inspiring. The author also uses the word "breathtaking" to describe the ways in which the Jews would begin to turn on one another under harsh persecution of the Nazis. This is a metaphorical use of the word, suggesting that the actions of the Jews are shocking and surprising.

Chapter 1

- 1. Why did Wiesel begin his novel with the account of Moshe the Beadle?

There is an element of foreshadowing with the introduction of Moshe – a glimpse of the impending doom but also foreshadowing of the ways in which the Jews would begin to turn on one another under harsh persecution of the Nazis.

The introduction of Moshe also helps to establish Eliezer's relationship with his faith and allows the reader to become conscious of the unfolding of his inner conflict and struggle.
- 2. Why did the Jews of Sighet choose to believe the London radio reports rather than Moshe?

Perhaps for some, it was better to be in denial that such events were occurring rather than to face the reality of the situation.

Others may have well have genuinely believe that the measures being taken against the Jews were temporary – for something of this nature to be happening in the 20th century clearly would seem absurd to people of the time, even to people today.

Also, one must have to take into consideration the power of propaganda. Reports were written and presented to rally the allied forces but also intimidate the enemy. These reports may not have necessarily been an accurate representation of the actual situation with regard to the war.

Lastly, Moshe, it seems, did not have much credibility. It seems many people disregarded his musings as those that belonged to a crazy man as Eliezer indicates. In contrast, even though Moshe's claims were from his very own eyes, the radio broadcasts could have appeared to have more credibility as they were from a respected and reputable news source at the time.

There are many potential reasons why the Jews of Sighet chose to believe the London radio reports over Moshe.
- 3. Why was it ironic that the leaders of the Jewish community were arrested during the celebration of Passover? (You will need to research the history of Passover if you are not familiar).

- 7. Why does Nick think that Gatsby is in love with Jordan Baker?
 Gatsby mentions that he knows Nick has a date to meet Jordan for tea. It would make sense that Gatsby likes her; they had a secret meeting at the party.
- 8. How does Gatsby react to the police officer who catches him speeding?
 He flashes the police officer a card then explains to Nick that he did a favor for the commissioner and now he sends him a card every Christmas. Sounds like police corruption.
- 9. Where does Gatsby take Nick for dinner?
 A 42nd Street coffee restaurant.
- 10. What is Meyer Wolfsheimer's opinion of Gatsby?
 He thinks Gatsby is the bomb. Impressed with his Oxford education and fine breeding.
- 11. What is Wolfsheimer's profession?
 gambler
- 12. How does Gatsby react to Tom Buchanan?
 After an introduction, he disappears. He appears embarrassed, strained.
- 13. What memory does Jordan share with Nick about Gatsby and Daisy before the war?
 She encountered them gazing at one another while sitting in Daisy's roomier outside her house. Jordan could tell that they were in love.
- 14. Why did Daisy try to steal away to New York? What stopped her?
 Daisy wanted to say goodbye to a soldier heading off to the war, presumably Gatsby. Her parents stopped her, and she would talk to them for months.
- 15. To whom was Daisy engaged before she met Tom?
 A New Orleans fella.
- 16. Provide one adjective to describe Daisy and Tom's wedding.
 (elaborate, ornate, pretentious, rich...)
- 17. Speculate why Daisy got "blunk as a monkey" and clung to a letter while announcing that the wedding was off.
 Maybe it was from Gatsby saying that he was coming home, and she should wait for him.
- 18. What does Tom's car accident shortly after the honeymoon indicate about his character and behavior?
 In the car with Tom was a maid from the hotel where he and Daisy were staying. Evidently, Tom's cheating began early on in the marriage. He's a cad. He's not to be trusted and never was.
- 19. When was Tom and Daisy's daughter born? What is her name?
 The next April. We don't know her name because she seems to be a quite inconsequential character in the novel.
- 20. The night that Nick visited the Buchanans and met Jordan, she mentioned that she knew Mr. Gatsby from West Egg. What was Daisy's reaction to the name, Gatsby?
 After Nick left, Daisy and Jordan and was quite excited to hear about this Mr. Gatsby from West Egg.
